WHAT MANAGER HERBERT MEANT

Railroad Experts Interpret What He Said a Month Ago.

FAVORABLE TO SALT LAKE.

Think the Import of His Statement Was Construction of a Southern Lake Cutoff.

Three or four weeks have elapsed since the visit to this end of the line that was made by General Manager Herbert of the Southern Pacific. At that time Mr. Herbert said to the "News" that one of the objects of his tour of inspection was to see wherein improvements could profitably be made in the line and in stations and terminals. Among other things upon which he said a decision had been reached was the gathering together of the yard tracks, offices, etc., of the Southern Pacitic at Ogden. Manager Herbert at that time complained that the terminal facilities at the Junction City were in a too scattered condition and that un-doubtedly they would be located upon a

Since then there has been some speculation as to the import of Mr. Herbert's words. Some railroad men of wide ex-perience and thorough knowledge of the western transportation situation have declared it to be their firm opinhave declared it to be their firm offic-ion that it is the ultimate intention of the Southern Pacific railroad to con-fine its Ogden business to that which may be absolutely necessary after having moved its main line to Sait Lake. The fact that a line across the southern end of the Great Salt Lake has been discovered to be more feasible than one across its northern end is also put into the balance in favor of the Salt Lake line. That barges, etc., are salt Lake line. That barges, etc., are said to have been placed upon the lake in its northern waters is not counted as having any weight against a southern cutoff, for the reason that the railroad people would, as a matter of course, unload their material and machinery upon the lake at the nearest and most convenient point, upon their and most convenient point upon their own rails. To tow these barges and this material to any point in or upon the waters of the lake would be a simple and very inexpensive matter.

Much land to the west of Salt Lake is also being secured by purchase and option and there is no doubt in the minds of some of the fair-seeing ones that this property is being or will be transferred to the Southern Pacific for A cut-off at this end of the lake is being strenuously urged by interested people and the result of their efforts may not now be foretold by any man.

tation on New Import Committee. vesterday for the purpose of comple ing arrangements for the handling of the import traffic next year. As a re-sult a substantially new import committee will be formed in which the initial rail lines from the seaboard, and their connecting ocean lines, will be represented; and one general import agent will be appointed, who will have supervision over all the agencies and over all import traffic. It is in-tended to have all the lines and interests handling import traffic represented in the committee. With a general import agent, authorized to supervise all import traffic and agencies, thought that any trouble that may arise over cut rates can be much more easily traced and rectified than under present conditions.

Shephard Resigns.

A. D. Shephard, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific company, has handed in his resignation. He will go to Victoria, B. C., as resident agent of the Pacific Improvement company. S. P. May May Take This In.

The San Francisco Call says that the North Pacific Coast railroad, running from Susalito to Cazadero, a distance of 92 miles, is likely to be merged by purchase into the system of the Southern Pacific company. A trip over the road, which passes through a prosperous farming and dairy section and is noted for the scenic beauty of its route, has just been made by President Hays, of the Southern Pacific, and Everette St. John, a prominent eastern railroad passenger business on account of the carnival is expected to be very heavy. Ogden was never anything but "grit-ty" and full of loyal citizens, and her tenacity in the railroad situation is characteristic.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop O. F. Whitney, Miss Ida Lyon acting as maid of honor, and Mr. James Clippinger best man. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, preceded by the little ring bearers, Paul and Bryan Wright. The bride wore a charming gown of white silk and chiffen, and carried roses. The maid of honor was gowned in blue and carried La France roses. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Walter Anderson and Miss Edith Midgley. In the dining room Misses Elsie Lyon and Winnie Evans served refreshments, and Miss Ele Lyon presided at the punch bowl. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were the recipients of many beautiful presents. They will reside in Salt Lake.

SALT LAKES TAKE ANOTHER.

Lobsters Lost Yesterday Afternoon's Game in the Ninth.

HAUSEN CUT THIRD BASE.

Hickey Radly lojured in a Collision on First With Clark-Pop Eyler Arrived Yesterday.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS. P. W. L. P.C.

Elmer Meredith and young McNichols were the scintillating stars in yesterday afternoon's contest with the lobster crew from up Ogden way. But for those two young men there would have been very little to the game. Meredith ladled out some of the most astounding curves the lobsters ever tried to unravel. For five innings they faced him with fear and trembling because it looked mightily like a shut out. Up to that time not a hit was registered against him. He seemed to measure every man who faced him and had them swinging like a gang of spike drivers. In three innings nine men faced him and were beached without getting a chance for first base. He bit off one or two line drives and made a pretty run for first, retiring a man with Hickey's assistance.

But it was McNichols, who is now posing between second and third bases, who sent the fans into transports of delight by his wonderful work. Never has a fielder covered so much ground on a local diamond as did this ex-Lagoonite yesterday. It may be said his wonderful work saved the game.

In the third inning men were on second and first when Casey made an apparently safe hit, but McNichols shot for the ball, nailed it and assisted by Webster and Hickey made a pretty

In the fifth McGregor was on third and Clark on second with nobody down. and Clark on second with hobody down.
A run looked certain. Schnables hit a swift one to left. It traveled with the speed of lightning and McGregor started for home. McNichols was seen to shoot into the air, his long arm shot out and the ball stopped. Before he hardly touched the ground the sphere was shot to Williams at third and Mc-Gregor was caught. Evans came up next and went out from Williams to Hickey. The crowd simply went wild with excitement over the phenomenal work of McNichols, and he was applauded vigorously,

Probably the longest run and catch of the season came in the ninth when Mc-Gregor smale out a foul over toward the gate in the northeast corner of the grounds. Weaver, Williams and Mc-Nichols ran after it, but the latter was more fleet of foot and got there first. It seemed he would never stop running and some individual in the grand stand "couldn't see why the fool wanted to run after that ball." But suddenly Mc-Nichols' long arms were extended in a seemingly impossible reach and the ball fell safely in his mitt. The locals started their work in the first inning and got their runs after two men were down. Hickey jed off but went out on a grounder to Clark. Weaver tried to dedge one of Evans' shoots but was assaulted in the hip and took his base. Bradley went down on a high one to Schnables but Billy Mc-Causland made the first hit of the day and then committed petit larceny at second. Right here Danny Taylor contributed a nice two bagger, scoring Kid Weaver. While Danny was flying to second, Hausen shot the spheroid to Plake, but the latter juggled it and McCausland took a desperate chance for home, scoring the second run. Williams came up and struck out.

The lobsters got their only run in the seventh, after two men were retired. Clark singled and tried a steal for second. McCausland threw wide to Webster and Dad Clark didn't stop until he reached third. Schnables came forth with a single which scored the only run. They had a splendid chance in the ninth to tie the score, but Hausen was caught in a little crooked work and lost the chance. He singled. Nagle went out on a grounder and after Mc-Nichols' sensational catch of McGregor's foul fly, Clark shot one down to Webster. The latter fumbled the ball and in runnning home Hausen third base by at least fourteen Umpire Hoffer saw him and called him
